THANK YOU
DONOR REPORT 2013
“Education is the most powerful weapon which you can use to change the world.” With these words, Nelson Mandela conveyed the hopes of his country.

From Johannesburg to New York, the path to prosperity has always started from the tip of a pen. That truth lies behind the creation of Melbourne Business School, established in its current form by a number of visionary donors more than three decades ago and continued over the years by our friends and supporters including you.

It is thanks to you that we have been able to achieve all that we have – over 15,000 alumni in 96 countries, the #1 provider of Executive Education headquartered in Asia, an MBA program ranked in the top 1% worldwide – all contributing to our graduates effecting positive change in their organisations and community.

The cycle of learning and impact that Nelson Mandela spoke of is alive in the halls of MBS.

But we cannot rest here. To be successful, companies must continue to be innovative and have leaders with vision and the skills to adapt. That requires a business school that ranks in the very top echelon. We are the region’s premier business school – the next step is to be one of the world’s prestige brands in business education as reflected in a top 25 ranking.

The ranks of our donors have grown with friends and alumni who have shared in our vision. The results of your support are detailed here. I’m delighted to be able to share with you the impact your gift has achieved for your community. I hope you enjoy reading these pages as much as I have enjoyed working on your behalf to bring that vision to reality.

On behalf of our students, staff and faculty who have directly benefitted from your generosity, we thank you for your support. Without it, none of this would have been possible.

THE BUSINESS SCHOOL HAS A MASSIVE ROLE IN SHAPING PEOPLE. PETER WAS EXTREMELY PASSIONATE ABOUT MBS. HE WAS ALWAYS PROUD AND GRATEFUL FOR WHAT HIS EDUCATION GAVE HIM — THE MENTORING AND CONNECTIONS AND A CONFIDENCE TO TAKE THINGS TO THE NEXT LEVEL. IT’S MY HOPE THAT MBS STUDENTS THINK ABOUT THE ROLE THEY CAN PLAY — AND TO MAKE SURE THAT THEY LEAVE SOCIETY IN A BETTER WAY THAN THEY FOUND IT.

In 1997 Peter Doherty (MBA 1990), his wife Sally Doherty and MBS Professor Bob Officer set out to create a business that would deliver value not just to investors but also to the community at large. Starting as an investment research firm, CP2 (formerly Capital Partners) is a specialist infrastructure investment management firm with offices in Sydney and London and a global client base of like-minded long-term Pension and Sovereign wealth funds.

“At the time, there were a lot of short-term investment decisions being made across the investment industry with little depth or research to back them up”, remembered co-founder and Managing Director Sally Doherty. “We felt that if investors had access to quality, in-depth investment analysis, people would focus more on the long-term and make decisions that would ultimately benefit society.”

Sally’s support of Melbourne Business School reflects this ethos. “Ethics in Business is one of the firm’s most strongly held values. Peter and I wouldn’t do anything that wasn’t aligned to our personal philosophy about investing in a responsible way.”

Sally Doherty
Managing Director, CP2

Supporting the teaching of ethics at MBS in honour of her late husband Peter Doherty (MBA 1990), Sally reflects

Ian Kirk Fellowship
The movie business is not so different from original research. Film makers take an idea and turn a dream into reality. In the same way, PhD students start with an original concept, refine it again and again and, in the process, convince people that the impossible can be achieved.

Since 2007, film industry executive Ian Kirk (MBA 1998) has made annual donations to fund the Ian Kirk Fellowship, awarded to a gifted PhD candidate able to make an outstanding contribution to knowledge and society.

Continuing in 2013, Muralee Das (PhD Candidate 2014) has been funded since 2011 to research Top Management Team Leadership and Blended Value Returns.

Grateful Graduate Bursary
It takes courage to resign from a job for a year to undertake full-time study. The ability to immerse yourself in the learning process is enhanced but it also requires a substantial financial commitment from our students.

An anonymous MBS alumnus makes annual gifts towards an endowment set up to ensure that students who encounter unexpected financial hardship are not forced to discontinue their studies. Since 2007, nearly $50,000 of support has been provided to appreciative students struggling with unforeseen disruptions such as family illness or changes in personal circumstances beyond their control.

This support continued in 2013, as the donor remains actively involved with the School and helping students complete their studies.
Gourlay Visiting Professor of Ethics
Since 2004, Melbourne Business School has partnered with Trinity College at the University of Melbourne to bring a visiting professor in ethics to Australia. Endowed by Mrs Louise Gourlay OAM to honour her late husband, business leader John Gourlay, the visiting professorship enables an internationally renowned scholar to deliver seminars to engage current and future business leaders in the discussion about the importance of ethics.

In 2013, the Gourlay Visiting Professor of Ethics was Professor Jeremy Moon, the Founding Director of the International Centre for Corporate Social Responsibility at Nottingham University.

“Ethics isn’t just a moralistic perspective of what is right and wrong. The lack of ethics leads to sub-optimum outcomes for organisations including health and safety issues, employee turnover and theft. Viewed strategically, companies who can think clearly about the roles they can play for their communities are able to also drive value for their firms.”

John Clemenger Memorial Prize and Scholarship
In its fifth decade, the John Clemenger Memorial Prize is awarded annually to the top MBA student thanks to an endowment made in honour of advertising professional John Clemenger OBE. Awardees have included Jacinth Fairley (MBA 1992), currently CEO at Starpharma, and current MBS Ltd Board member Ross Barker (MBA 1980), now Managing Director of Australian Foundation Investment Company Ltd & Djerriwarrh Investments Ltd.

Since 2007, a scholarship has also been awarded to students who choose to pursue a dual MBA/Masters of Marketing degree. This was the result of additional philanthropic support by Clemenger BBDO.

In 2013, Justin Cheng (MBA 2013) and Saud Alrakhayes (MBA 2014, MMktg 2015) were the respective recipients of these awards.

“John Clemenger Memorial Scholarship Recipient”

“I’m so appreciative of this scholarship - the cohesiveness of the students, the faculty, the chance to network, and living in Melbourne with all its events and conferences, it really is the ‘life city’! The support has opened many options for me and I can really focus on applying my skills. I’m hoping to work here in Australia after I finish the program, continue to build my contacts and experience, and then go back to Kuwait and implement everything that I’ve learnt.”

I REMEMBERED VISITING MBS BACK IN 1992 AND BEING ASTOUNDED BY THE QUALITY OF THE FACILITIES. I’VE ALWAYS BELIEVED THAT IF YOU SHOW INTEREST IN A PERSON’S ENVIRONMENT, THEY WILL BE MORE CREATIVE, MORE PRODUCTIVE. THAT’S WHY I GIVE TO MBS – I THINK A GREAT SCHOOL NEEDS TO HAVE THE ENVIRONMENT TO FOSTER LEARNING AND COLLABORATION. IT IS BEHOLDEN ON US, AS ALUMNI, TO MAINTAIN THAT.

I GOT MY BIG BREAK FROM DOING AN MBA. I WON THE CLEMENGER PRIZE AND WAS FORTUNATE TO BE RECRUITED BY EGN ZEHNDER. IT HAS CHANGED MY LIFE. I DONATE TO MBS BECAUSE I BELIEVE IT HAS A UNIQUE PLACE IN AUSTRALIA – IT’S A LINK BETWEEN BUSINESS AND ACADEMIA. AND THE ALUMNI ARE ABLE TO CONTRIBUTE TO OUR CONNECTIONS INTERNATIONALLY. IT’S SO IMPORTANT.

Coles

In 2013, Coles continued its longstanding relationship with Melbourne Business School through a substantial contribution to a state-of-the-art redesign of our main lecture theatre. As one of our founding donors responsible for funding the development of the MBS building, Coles continued their support of the next generation of business leaders through world-class facilities.

As MBS Dean, Professor Zeger Degraeve notes, “The environment in which we learn is almost as important as the content. Learning through collaboration and engagement with our faculty with the aid of the latest technology is an indispensable part of the student experience. We are grateful to Coles for helping us to create a lecture theatre that is designed for optimum learning, rivalling any theatre anywhere.”

Rupert Murdoch Fellowship

Recipient of the 2013 Rupert Murdoch Fellowship, Karen Allardice (MBA 2014) received Dean’s List recognition for her dedication, hard work and talent, placing her academic performance at the top of her class.

Karen is the latest recipient of the Fellowship which was launched in 1989 to celebrate the 25th anniversary of The Australian newspaper. An annual award covering full tuition, living allowance and an exchange at an international business school, there have been 53 recipients to-date. The award is given to a full-time student who is able to demonstrate leadership potential, academic abilities, professional achievement and a desire for international experience.

As part of the Fellowship, Karen completed an international exchange at London Business School before returning to Boston Consulting Group as a consultant upon graduation.

APC Leadership Breakfast Series

In 2013, APC hosted Sarah Davies (CEO, REACH), Ross Oakley (CEO, Victorian Rugby Union) and Christine Kilpatrick (CEO, The Royal Children’s Hospital) as part of its Leadership Breakfast Series.

Highlighting the fact that the path to leadership is varied and, at times, unexpected, the speakers come from a wide range of industries and share their leadership lessons with the MBS community. A total of 16 breakfasts have been held since 2008.

APC was founded by MBS alumnus Michael Tratt (MBA 1980) in 1988. Michael remains active in the life of MBS, also hosting other events such as career forums for students interested in the field of wealth management.
Tourism Victoria Case Competition

Worth over $100bn to the economy and employing over half a million people, the tourism sector is one of the most important industries in Australia.

Since 2004, Tourism Victoria has awarded bursaries to students for tourism related projects, to encourage application of business disciplines to tourism issues as well as attract MBA students to the sector post-graduation.

In 2013, the program was redesigned into an annual Case Competition. This provides a hands-on opportunity for students to apply their classroom learnings to a real business problem, while also providing invaluable insight to Tourism Victoria.

Economist and consultant James Green (MBA 2015) won first prize this year with a communications strategy to persuade government and the public of the value of tourism.

Egon Zehnder Leadership Prize

“Driving competitive advantage through leaders” encapsulates Egon Zehnder’s business model and illustrates the complementarity between the leading global executive search firm and Melbourne Business School.

Our partnership is multi-faceted including the Egon Zehnder Leadership Prize, awarded to Jonathan Myers (SE MBA 2013) for demonstrating outstanding leadership and contribution to life outside the classroom; and Egon Zehnder’s major sponsorship of our signature events, the Women and Management Dinner and Annual Alumni Dinner.

We are also delighted that our relationship with Egon Zehnder expanded into the classroom in 2013. Drawing on their expertise in the area of executive development, Egon Zehnder consultants conducted workshops for participants on the Senior Executive MBA program on the critical question of talent management. The initiative commenced in 2013 and will continue with the SEMBA and EMBA programs in 2014.

Allen Consulting Group Service Prize

At Melbourne Business School, we understand that success is defined in many ways. While academic achievement is important, so too are the contributions made to the School and wider community.

The Allen Consulting Group Service Prize was created to celebrate these achievements. Past winners have been instrumental in forging ties between the school community and the business community, making significant contributions towards integrating students from different cultures and raising the School community’s awareness of a number of social and community causes.

In 2013, the prize went to Christopher Forte (MBA/MMktg 2013) who received the most citations from his fellow students for demonstrating outstanding community service and enriching the student experience beyond the classroom.
IMPACT OF GIVING

In today’s world, competition comes from all corners of the globe. Australian businesses which have been successful are those which have been able to navigate the changing landscape and to adapt and thrive.

The same applies to business schools. From our beginnings in 1954 to now, the face of management education has changed greatly. Our ability to adapt has been rewarded with #1 for Executive Education head-quartered in Asia-Pacific and Top 1% MBA program globally.

Our ability to thrive and compete globally, depends on the ongoing support of our donors who provide much needed funds to attract the best faculty, build first-class facilities and bring the best students.

All philanthropic initiatives at Melbourne Business School are designed for the same outcome — to impact society through business education and initiatives. This is achieved by investing in a number of areas:

- Scholarships — to attract and develop talented students regardless of means
- Teaching and research — to recruit leading academics and make available their expertise to the corporate world
- Student experience — to enhance learning beyond the classroom and develop effective leaders
- Global community — to maintain a strong MBS network engaged in lifelong learning

Each contributes to knowledge creation and skills development in our students, alumni and wider business community. Whether the initiative targets early career researchers, mid-level managers, senior executives or academics at the top of their field, all lead to the same outcome — impact on how we do business and how we think about business.
SCHOLARSHIPS

At MBS, we recognise that attracting the best and brightest students not only enhances the classroom experience but also contributes to the quality of managers who can make a difference in their organisations and communities.

Your investment in scholarships provides access for top students to a world-class international education, regardless of means, and ensures that we can compete with other high ranking international institutions to attract these quality candidates.

In 2013, the following Scholarships were awarded thanks to philanthropic funding:

- Dean’s Women & Management Scholarship
  Trudy Hart (SEMBA 2014), Australia

- Developing Nations Scholarship
  Jitlada Jitmahawong (MBA 2014), Thailand

- Founders Scholarship
  Sumit Sood (MBA 2014), India

- Helen MacPherson Smith Fellowship
  Genevieve Blanch (MBA 2014), Australia

- Ian Kirk Fellowship
  Muralee Das (PhD Candidate 2014), Malaysia

- John Clemenger Memorial Scholarship
  Saud Alrakhayes (MBA 2014, MMktg 2015), Kuwait

- Rupert Murdoch Fellowship
  Karen Allardice (MBA 2014), Australia

“I’D BEEN THINKING ABOUT AN MBA SINCE 2007 BUT THEN MY SON CAME ALONG AND I THOUGHT THAT IT WAS IMPOSSIBLE. THE DEAN’S INTERNATIONAL SCHOLARSHIP TAKES AWAY THE PRESSURES AND ALLOWS ME TO FOCUS. IN TERMS OF THE FUTURE, IT ALLOWS ME TO LOOK AT BROADER OPTIONS RATHER THAN JUST THINKING ABOUT RETURN ON INVESTMENT. I’M SEEING OPPORTUNITIES OF BRINGING AUSTRALIAN BUSINESSES TO CHINA AND DEVELOPING IDEAS OF PROFIT BUT WITH SOCIAL RESPONSIBILITY IN CHINA. I’M JUST SO GRATEFUL FOR WHAT THE SCHOLARSHIP HAS DONE FOR ME.”

“MBS IS AN EXCEPTIONALLY FINE PLACE TO STUDY AND I FIND MYSELF DERIVING AN INCREASING AMOUNT OF BENEFIT AND VALUE FROM MY EXPERIENCE ACROSS A VERY DIVERSE RANGE OF PROFESSIONAL AND PERSONAL ENDEAVOURS. I SUPPORT SCHOLARSHIPS BECAUSE I HOPE THAT OUR GRADUATES WILL USE SOME OF THEIR SKILLS TO BECOME ADVOCATES FOR THOSE IN NEED, EITHER IN AUSTRALIA OR THE DEVELOPING WORLD.”

TEACHING AND RESEARCH

All leading business schools understand that the quality of their faculty determines research output, the success of the learning experience and outcomes for employers. A great teacher will stretch students and challenge how they approach problems. The effect is invaluable, not just for business but also for the wider social good.

The competition for international faculty is intense. Your donations allow us to invest in recruitment of faculty, research projects and collaborations.

“WITHOUT THE MBA, I WOULDN’T HAVE HAD THE SKILLS TO GET INTO STRATEGY CONSULTING. IT’S GIVEN ME A BREADTH OF EXPERIENCE AND BENEFITS THAT I WOULDN’T HAVE OTHERWISE HAD AND FOR THAT I’M ETERNALLY GRATEFUL. FOR ME, DONATING IS ABOUT PAYING BACK AND GIVING SOMEONE THE OPPORTUNITY THAT I HAD. I BELIEVE RESEARCH IS THE FOUNDATION OF FUTURE WEALTH FOR ANY COUNTRY. MANY OF THE ACHIEVEMENTS OF SOCIETY FLOW FROM BASIC RESEARCH. IT PRODUCES LONG LASTING BENEFITS. THAT WHY I SUPPORT TEACHING AND RESEARCH AT MBS.”

Areas of Research

In 2013, Melbourne Business School faculty taught and conducted research in the following fields thanks in part to philanthropic support:

- Accounting & Finance
- Economics
- Marketing
- Operations & Statistics
- Organisational Behaviour
- Strategy & General Management

THE CLASSROOM IS A GREAT PLACE TO TEST IDEAS. OUR STUDENTS COME HERE FROM SUCH DIVERSE INDUSTRIES AND COUNTRIES. WHEN WE HAVE DISCUSSIONS, THEY BRING THEIR PERSPECTIVES AND ADD TO THE LEARNING PROCESS. I CAN SAY THAT A NUMBER OF MY RESEARCH IDEAS STARTED IN THE CLASSROOM SUCH AS MY CURRENT RESEARCH PROJECT ON HIGH LEVEL PERFORMANCE AND EMPLOYEE PRODUCTIVITY.

Professor Karen Jehn
Recognised as one of the most influential scholars in the field of OB (Aguinas et al)
2013 marks the second year that Melbourne Business School’s Asia Pacific Social Impact Leadership Centre offered its innovative masterclass program for Indigenous business owners and leaders. The program offers six modules to its participants with courses in strategy, finance, marketing, HR, negotiations and leadership.

The MURRA program is a successful case study of how a pilot program which began with the support of alumni can grow and prosper. Alumni donations through Class Giving and the Annual Fund, as well as both corporate and government sponsorships continue to enable this program to grow. From that initial seed funding, MURRA now receives substantial financial support from Supply Nation and Indigenous Business Australia and discussions are underway to replicate the program in other areas of indigenous business and activities.

Donors to the program, the EMBA class of 2003 continue to support activities at MBS which align to their interest and passions. For the second year running, the Class supported the program, donating funds to cover travel costs for participant Gail Reynolds Adamson from Albany, WA as well as funding for general program costs. The Class have also been generous with their time, with alumni acting as mentors and appearing as guest speakers to share their leadership stories.
The learning process continues well beyond the classroom. Guest speakers from industry, case competitions, networking events, international modules – all these add to the experience and enrich student life.

Your support can contribute in a number of ways, whether it’s funding for events and international study tours, volunteering as mentors or sponsoring case competitions. These opportunities provide students with valuable means to connect and share ideas.

In 2013, students completed internships at the following socially focused organisations thanks to your support.

This program provides an opportunity for students to gain hands on experience during the MBA and apply their learnings, while also providing MBA talent to an organisation that may otherwise be unable to afford it.

In 2013, students completed internships at the following socially focused organisations thanks to your support.

MY INTERNSHIP WITH SOCIAL VENTURES AUSTRALIA OPENED DOORS FOR ME – IT HELPED ME TRANSITION INTO THE NON-PROFIT SECTOR AFTER GRADUATION AND SHOWED ME THAT THERE CAN BE A BRIDGE BETWEEN THE NON-PROFIT AND CORPORATE WORLDS. I BELIEVE THAT BY HIRING PEOPLE WITH THE RIGHT SKILLS AND BACKGROUNDS, NON-PROFITS CAN BECOME SELF-SUSTAINING BUSINESSES. WITH MY MBA, I CAN ASSIST IN BRIDGING THIS GAP AND MAKE A REAL DIFFERENCE.

GLOBAL COMMUNITY

Many business opportunities start with informal networks. Since 1965, we have welcomed over 15,000 alumni in 96 countries to the MBS Community. Our alumni are proud of their connection to one another and the School, as we are of their achievements.

Through global events and communications, we invest in keeping our alumni community connected to each other, MBS and the wider business community to celebrate this connection.

Global Alumni Celebration

Exactly 50 years ago, the first MBA class began in 1963. Graduates can now be found across the globe. Reliving the spirit of their endeavours, in September 2013 we held our first Global Alumni Celebration.

Alumni in 44 cities around the world took part in activities, from a Perth lecture presented by Associate Professor Mark Crosby on Emerging Issues in the Global Economy, a 6-course degustation dinner in Shanghai to a weekend gathering in London for our European alumni. For alumni, it was an exciting opportunity to share memories of their time at MBS and to connect to the wider alumni network.

New Alumni Reunion

In August 2013, an annual event was launched to welcome recent alumni back to MBS. Having graduated, most alumni are busy with work and miss the daily interaction with faculty and fellow students. Faculty members Associate Professor (Economics) Mark Crosby, Professor (Marketing) Jill Klein, Assistant Professor (Strategy) Geoff Martin and Associate Professor (Marketing) Mark Ritson delivered seminars on topics ranging from Resilience in the Workplace to a Post-Mortem on the Global Financial Crisis.

The Reunion was a chance for the group to absorb some thought leadership and share a drink with their friends without the pressure of exams.
THANK YOU TO OUR VOLUNTEERS

Our community defines us. A special mention must go to the many alumni who have volunteered their time and talents in activities such as:

- Expanding our corporate connections through employment, internships, and participation in events such as case competitions
- Attending information sessions and assisting in student recruitment
- Organising alumni events and running alumni chapters and clubs
- Participating in student experience through mentoring and guest lectures

Without the active participation of our volunteer alumni, it would be impossible to carry out many of the activities which enrich the life of the School every day. Our achievements would not have been possible without your support.

Thank you.
