MESSAGE FROM THE DEAN

It has been a very exciting first year for me at Melbourne Business School. I would like to thank you for giving me such a warm welcome and showing your ongoing passion for the School.

From the launch of several new programs to the new collaboration with the Faculty of Business and Economics, there is exciting change at the School with the opportunity to reach new heights.

In 2012, MBS:

- launched the 12-month full-time MBA
- expanded the Executive MBA suite of programs
- piloted and launched an exciting new mentoring program for our full-time MBA students
- welcomed the MURRA Indigenous Business Master Class Program through the Asia Pacific Social Impact Leadership Centre
- entered into a new collaboration agreement with the University of Melbourne to create a global business and economics hub, and jointly work towards a top 25 ranking in all disciplines

We also remained one of only two business schools in Australia to be ranked in the top 100 worldwide by the Financial Times.

As one of the top business schools in Australia, we operate in an increasingly competitive global market, characterised by brand consolidation and the emergence of quality management education offerings in the Asia Pacific region, a trend reflected in recent business school rankings.

A strong, supportive donor and alumni community is essential for MBS to achieve great results and to grow as an institution.

Our ability to remain competitive depends on our ability to fund cutting-edge research, offer the right scholarships to attract high-calibre students and provide a dynamic student experience.

With the ongoing support of our alumni, friends and the wider business community, we will remain on track to becoming the leading provider of graduate business education in Australia and the region.

As you read through this update on what your support has helped us to achieve, I hope that you are as proud of Melbourne Business School and our community as I am. Thank you once again for playing your part in our successes not only this year, but in the future.

Zeger Degraeve
Dean, Melbourne Business School

THE DEAN'S CIRCLE

The Dean's Circle recognises leadership in philanthropy and provides an opportunity for the School to thank you for the real and immediate difference you are making to the future of Melbourne Business School.

The Dean's Circle recognises donors who make gifts and pledges of $1,200* or more to the School in a single year. Thank you to our 2012 members for their generous support!

the previous entry level of $1,000 has been honoured for donors who donated prior to the increase*

“THE SOCIAL IMPACT INTERNSHIP PROGRAM ALLOWED ME TO GAIN GREAT WORK EXPERIENCE WHILE USING THE CONCEPTS AND FRAMEWORKS TAUGHT IN THE CLASSROOM FOR THE FIRST TIME. I SAW HOW THE RESEARCH AND ANALYSIS I CONDUCTED WOULD HELP OTHERS.”

Jessica Stewart (MBA 2013)

SOCIAL IMPACT INTERNSHIP PROGRAM

Every year, alumni donations help fund one of MBS’s most popular initiatives: the Social Impact Internship Program.

Founded in 2007, the program has grown each year. During their MBA, these students have opted to do an internship in a socially focused organisation, jointly funded by the employer and donations from the MBS Annual Fund. More than 50 students have applied their classroom learnings to work in NGOs and not-for-profit organisations in health, welfare, environment and the arts.

Jessica Stewart (MBA 2013) undertook her internship at Social Traders last year, which supports the creation of commercially viable social enterprises throughout Australia. She found value in being able to apply her MBA to a real work setting, and the internship has helped reshape her career plans to become a social impact consultant.

In 2012, 14 students worked in organisations such as Social Traders, St Kilda Youth Services and Business For Millennium Development (B4MD). Thank you to the generosity of the program’s donors.

MURRA INDIGENOUS BUSINESS MASTER CLASS PROGRAM

Support from the 2012 Annual Fund, EMBA Class Gift of 2003 and a three-year partnership with Kinaway, Victoria's Aboriginal Chamber of Commerce, enabled Melbourne Business School to pilot an innovative new program for Aboriginal business owners and leaders in 2012.

The MURRA Indigenous Business Master Class program, directed by Dr Michelle Evans (PhD 2012), of the Asia Pacific Social Impact Leadership Centre, was developed from consultations with Aboriginal businesses across Victoria in 2011.

MURRA is a series of six two-day master classes drawn from core subjects in the MBA – strategy, finance, marketing, HR, negotiations and a tailored master class in procurement.

MURRA is the first program of its kind to be run by an Australian business school. There are 13 Aboriginal business leaders engaged in the pilot program. Evaluations for these classes have been extremely positive.

Thanks to the generous support from our donors and the positive results in 2012, the program will be offered nationally in 2013.

“THE COMMUNITY AT MBS HAS BEEN INTEGRAL TO THE TRANSFORMATIONAL EXPERIENCE I HAVE HAD SO FAR STUDYING AT MBS. THERE IS NOW A WEALTH OF OPPORTUNITIES AWAITING ME UPON MY COMPLETION OF THE MBA.”

Gjergji Rumbullaku (MBA 2014)

DEVELOPING NATIONS SCHOLARSHIP

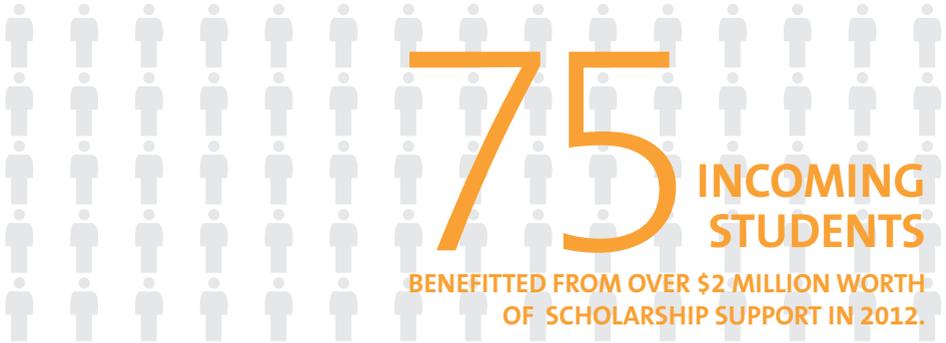

This year, we welcomed our first student from Albania, Gjergji Rumbullaku (MBA 2014), with the prestigious Developing Nations Scholarship. Previous recipients have come from Colombia, India and Jamaica.

For four years, MBS has awarded a scholarship to an outstanding applicant from a developing nation to promote diversity in the classroom and provide students from all over the world the opportunity to obtain a world-class business education from Australia.

Gjergji has settled into life at MBS very quickly, co-founding the MBS Golf & Business Club, co-running the Soccer Club and undertaking all the marketing responsibilities of the Energy & Resources Club. He is also a member of the first cohort of the one-year full-time MBA program and speaks highly of the new course.

Gjergji gained a Bachelor of Arts in International Relations from the University of New York in Tirana before going on to work in Albania's not-for-profit sector at the National Centre for Social and Economic Development.

“I am so thankful for the receipt of this scholarship – without its invaluable support I would have missed out on this great experience of both academic excellence and greater life opportunities. I will be forever indebted to the donors.”

NEW SCHOLARSHIPS

This year, Melbourne Business School announced two new annual scholarships open to alumni donations.

The Dean's Women and Management Scholarship for the Senior Executive MBA Program was announced at the 2012 WAM Dinner. This scholarship is awarded to an outstanding female applicant who demonstrates significant professional achievement, authentic leadership skills and the capacity to excel in a dynamic and challenging academic environment. The first recipient of the Dean's Women and Management SEMBA Scholarship will be commencing the Senior Executive MBA program in February 2013 and we look forward to reporting back on her experience at the School.

The Founders Scholarship was launched at the 2012 Annual Alumni Dinner and pays tribute to the 'Five Johns', the founding fathers of Melbourne Business School. It will be awarded to a candidate who has demonstrated innovative leadership and a positive impact in his or her community. The first of The Founder's Scholarship will be awarded to an incoming full-time MBA student in August 2013.

“BOTH ALUMNI AND STUDENTS HAVE BEEN REAPING THE BENEFITS OF THE ALUMNI MENTORING PROGRAM.”

David Michell (MBA 2009), Manager Alumni Relations

OUR COMMUNITY

Our student community forms deep bonds through student-led clubs, internships and on-campus activities, leading to a rich student experience and lifelong alumni network. Each year, the Annual Fund helps to enhance student life and ensure that our students are gaining the most from their time at MBS, inside and beyond the classroom.

This year, we sponsored students to attend the Ritchies Luncheon with CEO Fred Harrison, presented by the Sales and Marketing Institute. Ten MBS students and 184 retail and FMCG industry employees were presented with insights on the Australian retail landscape as well as the Ritchies strategy.

This event provided excellent networking opportunities for the students and further developed the MBS presence in this sector.

2012 also saw the launch of the Alumni Mentoring Program for our full-time MBA students. Each incoming full-time MBA student is paired with one of our alumni who can provide insight, advice and support throughout the student's MBA experience and transition back into the business community.

Alumni have volunteered to mentor students in their free time and both alumni and students have been reaping the benefits of the program. Mentor Luke Meehan (MBA 2008) says his experience mentoring part-time student Sarah Hudson (MBA 2014) was hugely rewarding:

“The highlight of the mentoring experience has been helping my mentee Sarah navigate school, work and her other commitments while studying. I think she was stretched at times by the mentoring experience, but Sarah has told me that she is better for it and would not have taken the action on her own. For me, helping Sarah improve herself is its own reward.”

The program would not have come to fruition without the support of two alumni in particular: Brad Adams (MBA 2006) became project manager on a voluntary basis and launched our pilot program to ensure the program's ongoing success, and Georgina Last (MBA 2006) took on the role of Chair of the Mentoring Committee through the project's first year of implementation.

THE ENDOWMENT

For the first time, our 2012 Annual Fund donors were able to contribute their annual gifts directly into our endowment. Combined donations of $10,000 will contribute into the Endowment this year, with the intention to grow this amount annually with your support.

Gifts into the Endowment remain in the fund in perpetuity and help build for the future. They are an investment in the long-term financial stability of MBS, providing ongoing support for the School in its key strategic activities and helping to improve its quality and global competencies.

Income derived from the endowment is a key area of funding for the School's ongoing operations, in addition to fee revenues and major gifts. A healthy endowment supports programs essential to the Melbourne Business School strategy, ensuring growth, financial security and a sustainable future.

A HISTORY OF MELBOURNE BUSINESS SCHOOL

Melbourne Business School has commissioned professional historian Mary Sheehan, of Living Histories, to chart its evolution from the Summer School of Business Administration in 1956 to the 21st century. The project has been made possible thanks to the generous support of some of our key donors.

Thank you to all the alumni and friends who have taken the time to contribute their stories and thoughts on MBS. The history will reflect the important role of alumni and the business community, staff and students in the development of Australia's leading business school, in the broad context of changes to higher education and the development of management education nationally and globally.

For publication by early 2014, this will be the definitive account of Melbourne Business School and its journey to becoming Australia's premier business school.

Ethics (EIBE)

GOURLAY VISITING PROFESSOR OF ETHICS

Professor Ronald Jeurissen, a Netherlands-based consultant to business and government on management for organisational integrity, was this year's Gourlay Visiting Professor of Ethics in Business.

Ron Jeurissen is Professor of Business Ethics at Nyenrode Business Universiteit and Director of the European Institute of Business Ethics (EIBE).

In 2005, John and Louise Gourlay established the Gourlay Visiting Professor of Ethics in Business, through an endowed fund with Melbourne Business School and Trinity College, with the aim of stimulating discussion of ethics within the broader community.

For one term each year, an internationally distinguished professor is brought to Melbourne to engage with the business and community sectors, while teaching ethics in business jointly at MBS and Trinity College.

On his visit, Professor Jeurissen presented the Gourlay Public Lecture, participated in the Vincent Fairfax Speaker Series through the MBS Centre for Ethical Leadership, and led high-level university and board workshops and discussion groups.

The Business Ethics Chair at Nyenrode is the oldest chair of its kind in Europe, established in 1985. We were honoured to welcome him to MBS this year.

GRATEFUL GRADUATE BURSARY

In 2007, an anonymous donor pledged $500,000 to ensure that students facing financial hardship are able to complete their studies. The bursary recognises that there are times when situations beyond a student's control can jeopardise their ability to complete their MBA.

This year, the generous bursary allowed two students to receive the assistance necessary to complete their studies and graduate with their class. Both students faced financial difficulties due to unexpected family illnesses. Thanks to Grateful Graduate Bursaries, both were able to pay off their final rounds of tuition and celebrate alongside their peers after two years of hard work.

“When considering giving back to MBS, we can ensure a diverse classroom experience and the formation of a valuable lifetime network, from studying with colleagues from different backgrounds, tertiary disciplines and countries.

Ensuring the diverse group of students selected by MBS are able to complete their MBA is an incredibly important part of the student experience - both for the individual student and their cohort.

The Grateful Graduate Bursary was put into place to ensure that these opportunities aren't lost due to circumstances beyond a student's control.”

To date, four students have been able to complete their studies thanks to this generous gift.

“THE RUPERT MURDOCH FELLOWSHIP HAS GIVEN ME THE CONFIDENCE AND SUPPORT TO PURSUE A FULL-TIME MBA, INCLUDING AN EXCHANGE TERM AT A PRESTIGIOUS OVERSEAS SCHOOL.”

Justin Cheng (MBA 2013)

RUPERT MURDOCH FELLOWSHIP

The Rupert Murdoch Fellowships were established by News Ltd to celebrate the 25th anniversary of The Australian newspaper.

The Fellowships encourage the most gifted Australian students to flourish in an exceptional educational environment, by gaining a degree that will empower them to offer leadership and service to the wider international community.

Today, this is MBS's most prestigious and sought-after scholarship. Annually, it provides an outstanding Australian candidate with a scholarship covering full MBA tuition, a living allowance and a term's exchange at a leading international business school.

Justin Cheng (MBA 2013), the recipient of the 2012 Rupert Murdoch Fellowship, has an impressive professional background that includes working in IT services for businesses such as Infosys, ANZ, ING and Toll on various large scale projects since he completed his undergraduate degree in 2004. He chose to take on the full-time MBA to broaden his experience after following a technical career.

Justin says the scholarship has opened up professional network and career opportunities that have been transformational. “The Rupert Murdoch Fellowship has given me the confidence and support to pursue a full-time MBA, including an exchange term at a prestigious overseas school,” he says.

“Even more meaningfully, it has helped me build a relationship with News Limited, who regularly invite me to speak with leaders in their businesses. This has helped me keep a real-world perspective to my studies and has let me see how an entrepreneurial culture and a drive to innovate can help a business respond quickly to disruptive changes. I am very grateful for having received this scholarship.”

“THE IAN KIRK FELLOWSHIP HAS MADE POSSIBLE MANY STREAMS OF RESEARCH ON SOCIAL ENTREPRENEURSHIP, AND WITH THE OBJECTIVE OF PUBLISHING THIS WORK IN LEADING ACADEMIC JOURNALS, MR KIRK’S GIFT HAS AND WILL MAKE A TREMENDOUS DIFFERENCE.”

Muralee Das (PhD 2014)

IAN KIRK FELLOWSHIP

Muralee Das (PhD 2014) joined us this year as the Ian Kirk Fellow at the Asia Pacific Social Impact Leadership Centre (APSILC).

Ian Kirk (MBA 1998), Chairman of theatre company White Hot Productions, wanted to give something back to Melbourne Business School and support current students. “I am proud to be an alumnus of a school that has built and maintained an excellent reputation both in Australia and overseas.”

Ian created the PhD scholarship to assist a gifted PhD candidate to benefit from the opportunities provided by MBS and our world-class faculty.

Muralee previously served as Assistant General Secretary and Director of Human Resources & Services for the Asian Football Confederation, based in Kuala Lumpur.

His 16-year career has encompassed leadership roles in for-profit and non-profit firms, which has led to his research interests in Top Management Team (TMT) Leadership and Blended Value Returns (BVR) for his doctoral program.

Muralee is undertaking research on social entrepreneurship at the MBS Asia Pacific Social Impact Leadership Centre. He completed tertiary studies in the United States with a BBA (University of Iowa) and MBA (University of Nevada-Las Vegas). Muralee was born and raised in Malaysia.

“IT WAS AN AMAZING HONOUR TO RECEIVE SUCH A PRESTIGIOUS AWARD – IN DOING SO, I AM FOLLOWING IN THE FOOTSTEPS OF SO MANY GREAT PEOPLE INCLUDING BCG PARTNERS.”

Mark Alexander (MBA 2012)

JOHN CLEMENGER GRADUATION PRIZE

The John Clemenger Memorial Prize was created in 1964 in memory of John Clemenger OBE in appreciation of the many services he provided to the development of Victoria, to Lawn Tennis in Australia and to his chosen profession of advertising. This prestigious prize has been awarded annually since 1965 to the top MBA student.

Mark Alexander (MBA 2012) was awarded the 2012 John Clemenger Memorial Prize at graduation.

A former physiotherapist, Mark’s academic success has led to his current role as a consultant with Boston Consulting Group. Mark continues in an advisory role to the company he founded, BakPhysio, that manufactures and markets a range of patented back-pain self-treatment devices that he invented.

Mark’s previous roles include working as a Specialist Sports Physiotherapist to the Australian Olympic Triathlon team. Mark says his decision to attend MBS was backed by a desire to acquire solid business skills to apply to his consulting career and his own enterprises in future.

“BEING AWARDED THE JOHN CLEMENGER MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIP HAS REINFORCED THE VALUE OF HAVING THE FAITH AND COURAGE TO SUCCEED – TO BELIEVE IN MYSELF AND THE JOURNEY I HAVE CHOSEN IN LIFE. RECEIVING THE AWARD HAS ENCOURAGED ME TO CONFIDENTLY PITCH MY IDEAS TO POTENTIAL INVESTORS AND EARLY ADOPTERS.”

Matt Jones (MBA/MMktg 2014)

JOHN CLEMENGER MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIP

The John Clemenger Memorial Scholarship was created in 2007 to support exceptional students pursuing the Masters of Marketing in addition to their MBA. It is awarded each year to a student who has demonstrated high academic performance in previous programs, as well as leadership in extracurricular activities.

Matt Jones (MBA/MMktg 2014) is the recipient of the 2012 John Clemenger Memorial Scholarship. While completing his MBA, Matt demonstrated a strong passion for furthering his education and a keen entrepreneurial spirit through his involvement in the MBS Entrepreneurship Club.

Matt began his education with a Bachelor of Arts that encompassed an exchange in Japan – the place he and his family now call their second home. Matt went on to focus on international trade and trade law with a Bachelor of Business, which led to four years in trade finance with ANZ. He is now building an online marketplace to help ordinary Australians increase their income.

Matt, who is currently studying the dual MBA and Master of Marketing, says coming to MBS has been life changing.

“AS THE HEINZ AMBASSADOR I WOULD LIKE TO GET MBS MORE INVOLVED IN THE COMMUNITY, AND WITH HEINZ, ORGANIZING A SECOND BITE VOLUNTEER EVENT WITH MBS STUDENTS AND HEINZ EMPLOYEES.”

Elizabeth Johnson (MBA 2012)

HJ HEINZ FOUNDATION SCHOLARSHIP

This year marks the 25th anniversary of a generous donation from HJ Heinz Australia to Melbourne Business School in 1987. Each year, the HJ Heinz Foundation Scholarship is awarded to a full-time, second year MBA student who demonstrates exceptional academic performance, leadership potential, success in their internship or work experience opportunities and financial need.

Elizabeth Johnson (MBA 2012) is the newest recipient of the HJ Heinz Foundation MBA Scholarship.

Originally from Minneapolis, Minnesota, Elizabeth relocated to Melbourne in 2011 to commence her full-time studies at MBS.

During her first year, she has maintained an exceptional academic record while taking on the role of VP of the Women and Management (WAM) Club at MBS. Elizabeth has a passion for volunteering and community involvement and strongly identifies with Heinz's corporate social responsibility initiatives such as FoodBank and Second Bite.

During her time at MBS, she has completed an internship with Coles in its Operations department and has been on exchange at HKUST. She graduates in May 2013.

MELBOURNE BUSINESS SCHOOL

MBS IS DEEPLY GRATEFUL TO OUR NETWORK OF ALUMNI VOLUNTEERS WHO PROVIDE INVALUABLE SUPPORT TO THE MBS COMMUNITY IN A NUMBER OF WAYS.

OUR VOLUNTEER COMMUNITY

We would like to say a special thank you to those alumni who have volunteered their time and talents to help the School in the following ways:

- maintaining connections between the MBS community through running our network of alumni chapters and clubs;
- serving as unofficial cohort representatives and keeping the bonds close between classmates through the organisation of reunions, events and communications;
- acting as program ambassadors and advocates to identify high calibre candidates for our school and encouraging them to attend MBS;

- supporting the student experience through mentoring, speaker series' and networking events; and
- finally, by expanding our valuable connections in the corporate world by building connections and helping current students explore career options.

If you are interested in continuing your support of the School, please contact us at alumni@mbs.edu

THANK YOU.

CLASS GIFTS

Highlights of the Class Gift Program during 2012

Launch of Class Gift 2012

The graduating class of 2012 aims to build a culture of entrepreneurship at MBS by providing an Entrepreneurship Grant to students wishing to start their own businesses. At their Valedictory Dinner, the class raised more than $5000 and has since seen an inspiring number of donations come in. The first grant will be awarded in 2013.

Class Gift 2009

In 2012, the Class of 2009 hosted their third annual leadership luncheon to recognise and celebrate students who contribute to the MBS student experience outside of the classroom. Five students from the Class of 2012 were joined by Corrine Katz, Milosh Milisavljevic, David Michell and Damien Regan from the Class of 2009. The lunch honours these students and provides a further opportunity to build connections within the alumni network.

EMBA Class Gift 2003

As a part of their $500,000 endowment, the EMBA Class of 2003 pledged three years of financial support to the MURRA Aboriginal Business Master Class program. In 2012, they donated the first of three instalments of $15,000, which assisted the program to provide stipends to all of its participants.

Class Gift 2000

The Class of 2000 provided new lecture theatre chairs for MBS, a highly practical and greatly appreciated gift. Their donations allowed the School to purchase 29 new chairs for the CUB theatre and will continue to fund more chairs in future years.

IN THE PAST DECADE, A TRADITION HAS BEEN ESTABLISHED FOR EACH GRADUATING CLASS TO CREATE A CLASS GIFT IN RECOGNITION OF THEIR TIME AT MBS. CLASS GIFTS ENABLE ALUMNI TO DONATE TO A CAUSE OF THEIR CHOICE, STAY ACTIVELY INVOLVED WITH MBS AND HELP FUTURE GENERATIONS OF MBS STUDENTS.

Previous and ongoing Class Gift activities

The Class of 2010 raised money to support STREAT, a Melbourne-based social enterprise supporting homeless/disadvantaged youth in Australia, through funding a three-month MBS student internship, and hosting a number of events to build the partnership between MBS and STREAT.

The Class of 2008 created the 2008 Keynote Speaker Series. Over three terrific evenings in 2009, the School welcomed ANZ CEO Mike Smith, Gulf Finance House CEO Ahmed Fahour (MBA 1993), and Professor Emeritus Ian Harper - Access Economics, to discuss the global financial crisis.

The EMBA Class of 2007 raised over $40,000 to fund a student internship at not-for-profit organisation as well as funding ovarian cancer research at the University of Melbourne's Faculty of Medicine, Dentistry and Health Sciences.

The Class of 2006 are leaving a legacy of their time at the School by collectively making gifts to form a scholarship that will support the education of future MBS students. Their Class Gift continues to build.

Deciding to do something positive for future generations of MBS students, the Class of 2005 joined together to give a gift that would grow into a scholarship - supporting deserving students to pursue an MBS education. Today, through regular pledges, their Class Gift continues to grow.

To celebrate their respective 30th graduation anniversaries, alumni from the MBA Classes of 1968 and 1969 pledged gifts to support two scholarships for outstanding MBA students. Since 1999, more than 15 students have had their education supported by the generosity of these proud alumni.

LOYAL DONORS

WE WOULD LIKE TO SAY A SPECIAL THANK YOU TO OUR LOYAL DONORS WHO HAVE SHOWN THEIR ONGOING COMMITMENT TO MELBOURNE BUSINESS SCHOOL THROUGH THE YEARS.

THE DONORS BELOW HAVE SUPPORTED MELBOURNE BUSINESS SCHOOL FINANCIALLY FOR FIVE OR MORE YEARS.

THANK YOU! YOUR SUPPORT IS TRULY INSPIRATIONAL AND HAS A LASTING IMPACT ON THE LIVES OF THE STUDENTS, ALUMNI AND COMMUNITY OF MBS.
